Time, talent, treasure and testimony: the four T's of philanthropy

Dear Friends,

Fresh Meals On Wheels of Sheboygan County rests on a foundation built by the time, talent and treasure offered by innumerable individuals, businesses, churches and other organizations over the last 50 years.

Those three T's of philanthropy, as they are known, have an often forgotten sibling called testimony. As the fourth T of philanthropy, testimony is about using your voice and your network to promote awareness of and support for a non-profit.

Testimony doesn't mean you have to go out and give speeches about Meals On Wheels, although you could if that's your thing. It means talking to the people in your sphere of influence about your experience with Fresh Meals On Wheels. Did Fresh Meals On Wheels keep your grandma from having to move to a nursing home? Did you have a great time chopping veggies at Fresh Meals On Wheels with a group from work? While delivering meals, were your eyes opened to the loneliness and isolation homebound seniors endure every day? Tell people. The more they hear about Fresh Meals On Wheels from people who have experience with the program, the more likely they are to look into getting meals if they need help, or supporting the program with their time, talent or treasure.

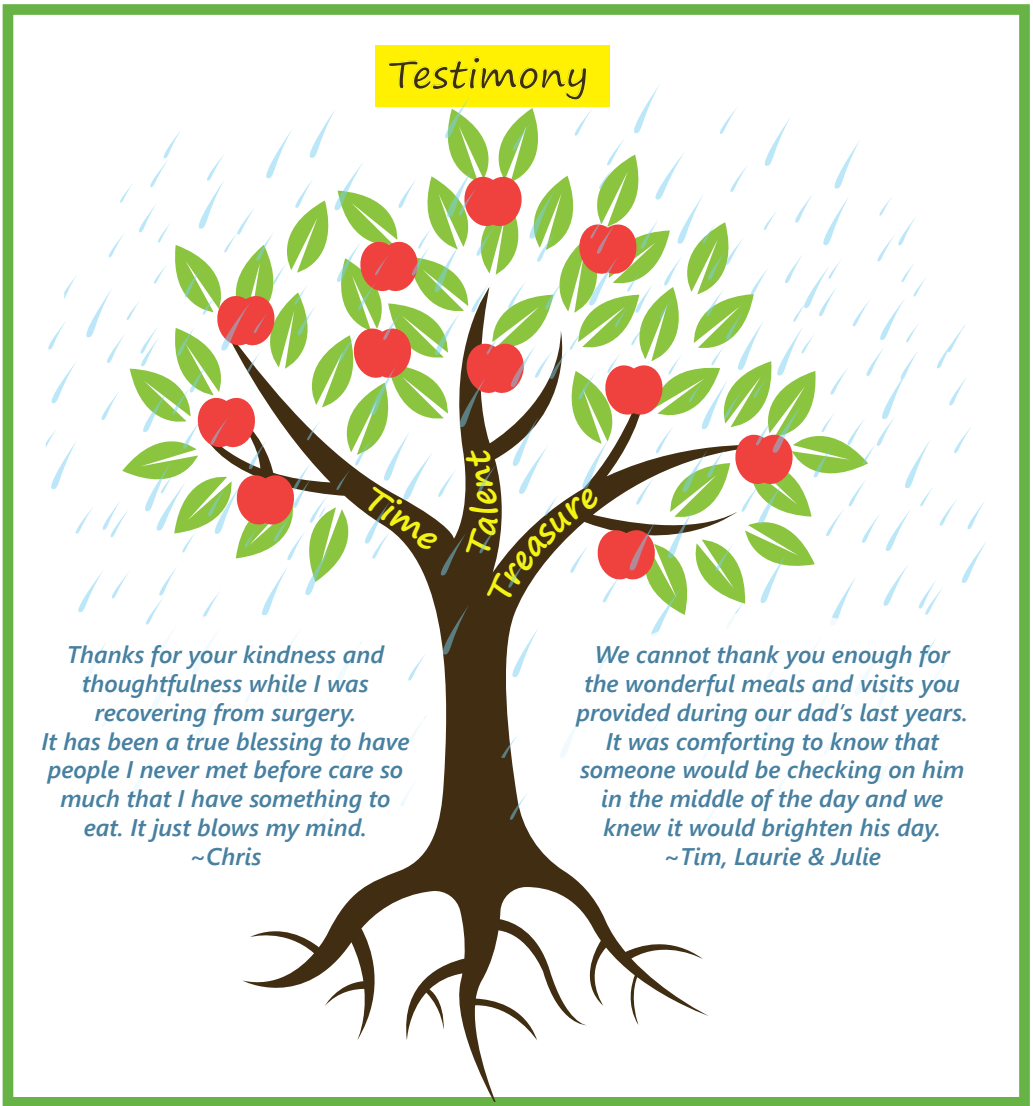
Testimony can include following Fresh Meals On Wheels on Facebook and liking our posts, or creating your own post, tweet or email about your experience with Fresh Meals On Wheels.

Testimony goes beyond personal influence. Companies, churches and other organizations involved with Fresh Meals On Wheels can do the same. For people who don't know about the program, knowing that a big company or trusted organization supports us can be reassuring. It is like applying for a job and we need your references.

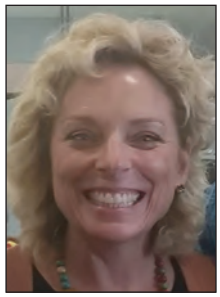
Thank you for sharing your time, talent and treasure with our program— please send us your testimony!

Stay safe,

Kelly Anderson
CEO



Testimony, the often-overlooked fourth "T" of philanthropy, feeds the roots of the organization and helps Fresh Meals On Wheels grow and bear fruit. Testimony can be as simple as posting something on Facebook or talking to a neighbor who might need help.



We'd like to say THANK YOU to these generous supporters!

Thank you!

Fresh Meals On Wheels of Sheboygan County, Inc.

No yard? Grow a container garden!

Growing veggies is not limited to those with big yards. Container gardens are the perfect solution for apartment and condo dwellers.

If you have a sunny balcony or patio, Fresh Meals On Wheels Garden Director Jane Nauschultz suggests growing tomatoes, peppers, bush beans, pole beans, beets, green onions or radishes. If you only have partial sun, greens like lettuce, kale, spinach and Swiss chard will grow well.

All you need is a pot, some potting soil and seeds and you will soon be enjoying the fruits of your container garden!

Covid-19 has impacted our garden plan and ability to accept produce donations

The impact of COVID-19 is being felt even in the Meals On Wheels gardens. With a shortage of space in our coolers and freezers because of amount of food needed for weekly deliveries, our gardens are being planted primarily with potatoes and squash, which will keep without refrigeration. Garden and Produce Director Jane Nauschultz is also growing some cherry tomatoes, greens, peas, beans and rhubarb, which will be harvested in small quantities that staff can process and use in meals right away without the need for storage.

This also means that, as much as we appreciate you sharing the bounty of your gardens with us, we are temporarily unable to accept produce donations. When we are able to return to our regular delivery schedule and can once again invite volunteers in to help peel and chop, we will gratefully welcome your donations!

Census 2020: Help ensure everyone gets counted

A census in the time of COVID-19 is a challenge, but according to the website 2020Census.gov, 75.9% of Sheboygan County residents had responded to the census as of June 4. That is a great response rate – way to go Sheboygan County!

Please encourage – and if necessary, help - those in your family or neighborhood who have not responded to do so.

A complete and accurate count is critical because the results of the census determine:

- How lawmakers allocate billions of dollars in federal funding to hospitals, fire departments, schools, roads, seniors, the disabled, and more,
- The number of seats each state will have in the U.S. House of Representatives, and
- How congressional and state legislative districts are drawn.

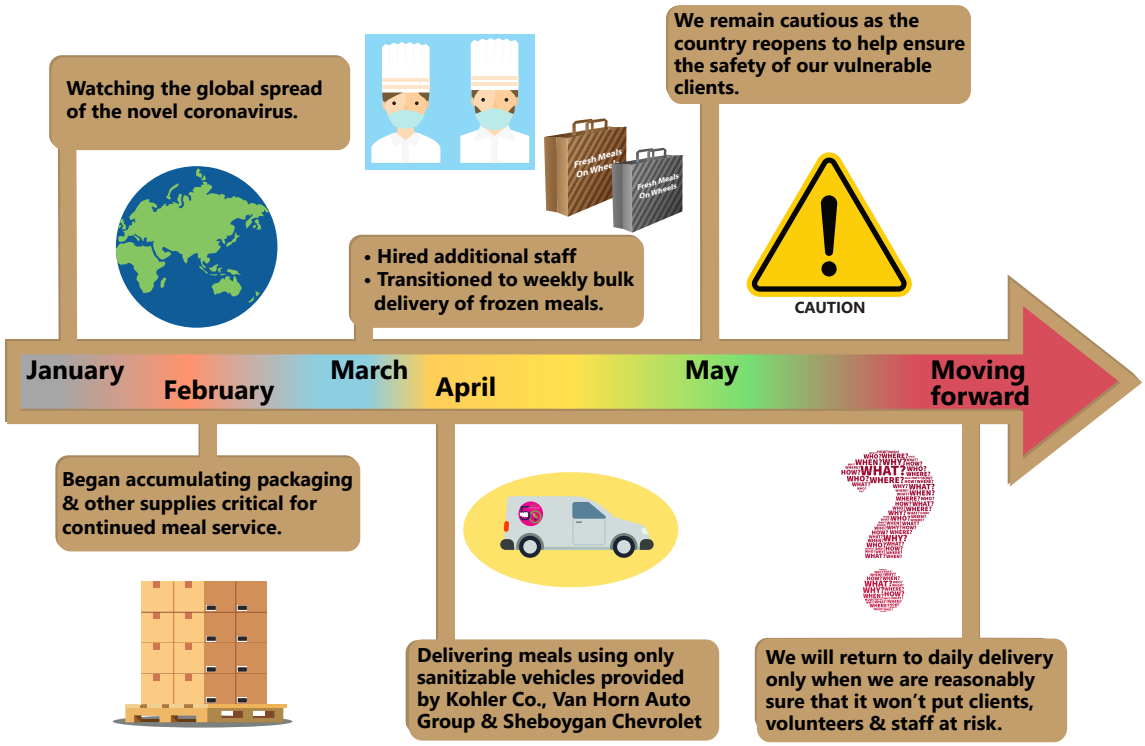
There are three ways to respond to the census: by phone, by mail, and via the Internet. Almost two-thirds of Sheboygan County residents who responded did so via the Internet. Please contact anyone you know without Internet access, or who might have trouble responding because of issues with vision, hearing, mobility, or confusion and ask if they have sent in their census responses. If not, please offer your help. For more information, visit 2020census.gov, or call the Census Bureau at 844-330-2020 for English speakers or 844-468-2020 for Spanish speakers. Phones are answered 6 a.m. to 1 a.m. seven days a week.



Preparations, transitions, decisions . . .

The past two months have been a period of extreme adjustment for people and businesses everywhere as we all deal with the on-going public health crisis, the COVID-19 illness caused by the novel coronavirus. At Fresh Meals On Wheels of Sheboygan County, Inc., we have had the luxury of knowing our absolute goal: keeping our clients, team, families, and the community we serve safe while continuing to provide life-sustaining nutrition. Our team was up to this challenge, and we would like you to know how we have progressed thus far:

By late January, we were watching the progress of the novel coronavirus. In February, our existing pandemic plan went into effect, and we began accumulating additional critical supplies (like meal packaging) to ensure that our community would not go without. In March, we hired additional staff to be trained as a hedge against any potential illness amongst existing staff.

At the declaration of a national emergency, our team quickly turned our service model on its side. With the support of many generous and fast-acting partners, we were able to limit the number of face-to-face visits with clients, instead arranging Caring Callers to check in with them regularly. Our delicious homemade meals were flash frozen, giving us the ability to deliver a week's worth of meals at a time, which made our routes much more challenging. Delivery vans were acquired, thanks to some wonderfully generous folks in our community, and these continue to be used to deliver bulk meal packages, along with some necessities, to our most vulnerable neighbors.

In addition to social distancing, we implemented a number of protocols: vans are sanitized between every delivery; staff and drivers are surveyed for any signs of illness or recent travel; drivers wear masks and gloves; staff wear masks; and our facility has essentially, been split in two. Office and kitchen staff do not commingle. Office staff work from home as much as possible. Our beautiful facility is closed to visitors, and all special events are cancelled for now.

A closed facility is one thing, but we also severely limited the number of volunteers delivering meals, with the understanding that reducing variables can mean a great deal of difference in a pandemic, especially when it comes to contact tracing. Our clients and our team miss ALL of our volunteers. We have been blessed with over 1,000 awesome people who give their time each year, and we look forward to seeing them again – they are the heart of the program. We applaud those volunteers who made the wise choice to isolate early, based on their personal risk factors. Potentially, their actions saved themselves, and others.

Navigating back through these changes will take time and care. We will not begin that process yet, and a timeframe is impossible to predict at this point. While the State of Wisconsin has allowed many businesses to reopen, Sheboygan County Public Health has this to say about relaxing safety standards, "People aged 65 and older and those who are medically vulnerable should continue to limit travel and remain at home as much as possible."

We have made the difficult but necessary decision to maintain our new status quo for the time being. Facts and guidelines based on science and data will be the determining factors in our moving back towards 'normal.'

We are honored to be able to continue serving our clients and our community. Thank you!

Paving a path of love, one brick at a time

50 Years
Fresh Meals On Wheels of Sheboygan County, Inc. 1970-2020

Please support Fresh Meals On Wheels as we lay the groundwork for another 50 years of serving our senior and disabled neighbors by purchasing a brick in honor or memory of a loved one, to celebrate a holiday, or to commemorate your COVID experience. Proceeds will help foster the caring and love our seniors and homebound neighbors need as they age safely in place.

The bricks will create a walkway through the property, and the hope is that it will eventually form the framework for a universally designed garden in the area just behind our building. The Oasis, as it has been dubbed, is intended to be a safe, memory-evoking destination for those with Alzheimer's disease and other intellectual or physical challenges along with their families and caregivers.

To order a brick, please visit www.fundraisingbrick.com/online-orders/mealsonwheels. For more information, call at 920-451-7011.

The commemorative brick path will wind through the Fresh Meals On Wheels property, eventually creating the framework for The Oasis, a universally designed garden intended as a safe, relaxing space for those with dementia or other physical or intellectual limitations and their caregivers.
